A VP training camp was in the woods near Angermuende (N 54/2 20). Nineteen to twenty-yearold policemen were trained there with light and heavy infantry weapons and artillery pieces.
The guns were of German and Soviet origin and included Joviet rocket launchers. The ammunition required for the weapons of German origin was said to be manufactured in the Soviet Zone of Germany. Upon completing the course the VP trainees are allegedly to undergo training with 88-mm AA guns in Potsdem-Eiche (N 53/Z 63).
A thousand VP men from the Angermuende camp in the woods were selected for the "march toward Berlin."
